NOTES -

- A small number of 1st time, full-time undergraduate students (21) enter with enough credits earned during high school to place in the sophomore class, but are counted as part of the 1st year class for this report.
- For the purposes of this report, each student is counted only once. Students with more than one major/academic program are counted with their primary program.
- Fractional hours are rounded to the nearest whole number. Credit hours include EM Credit and audit hours.
- An undetermined number of out-of-town students give Dayton as their permanent address.
- Students in the Bangalore India Program are included in the above record, but are not reported to the NCES/IPEDS

NOTES -

- For the purposes of this report, each student is counted only once. Students with more than one major/academic program are counted with their primary program.
- Students counted under '0' Credit Hours are maintaining UD registration, taking no courses or auditing courses. While students generally must be considered full-time students to be eligible for Co-op and Study Abroad programs, they pay no tuition to UD and are therefore counted as part-time students.
- Fractional hours are rounded to the nearest whole number. Credit hours include EM Credit and audit hours.
- An undetermined number of out-of-town students give Dayton as their permanent address.
- Students in the Bangalore India Program are included in the above record, but are not reported to the NCES/IPEDS

Comparative Statistics on Average Section Size

Assumptions:

A section is counted if enrollment is 5 or more with the following exceptions -

- a section is not counted if it is of a type that does not require regular class meetings with an instructor, i.e., Practicum, Internship, Independent Study, Seminar, Workshop, Student Teaching, Co-op Work Experience, Lab Work Experience, Field Experience
- in the departments of Music and Health and Sport Science, only the sections of lecture courses and the students enrolled in them were counted
- if there are no classes with ≥ 5 students in a department, then the section count for the entire department is 1
- when a course is offered both for graduate and undergraduate SCH (joint) then it is counted as .5 sections in each
- if a section is not for credit, neither the section nor the students is counted

NOTES:

For Entered First Year Students - count is taken as of the census date. Includes only full-time first year new students enrolled in undergraduate credit-bearing courses (conditionally admitted international students enrolled only in IEP courses during their first term at UD are omitted from the cohort. This cohort is used for each consecutive year of this study. Retention is defined as being registered for a fall term as of the census date. This includes students registered as part-time or as co-op students working away from U.D. for a term. There may be exceptional situations of students who are not counted, but are "stopouts". However, it is believed that these are few in number.

Comparative national data for private institutions for 2012 is as follows (selective admission described as ACT Score Range 21-26, SAT Score Range 1470-1770, majority admitted from top 25% of HS class):

First year to second year attrition:

ACT: Selective admission Ph.D. granting - 15.6% (84.4% retention)

Graduation rates (5 year):

ACT: Selective admission Ph.D. granting - 68.9%

Comparative national data for public institutions for 2012 is as follows:

First year to second year attrition:

ACT: Selective admission Ph.D. granting - 16.1% (83.9% retention)

Graduation rates (5 year):

ACT: Selective admission Ph.D. granting - 56.1%
